Overview

The jumbled mass of the Wonderland of Rocks covers twelve square miles of intriguing landscape. On this mostly off trail, out and back cross-country hike, we will walk to a high vantage point that overlooks this vast and complex geologic wonder. Fine views of the upper Queen Valley along with Quail Mountain, the Parks high point, and Mount San Jacinto and San Gorgonio Mountain will be had as well. If luck is with us, Desert Bighorn sheep might be observed on some of the rocky out cropping's that are found along our infrequently traveled path.
